One request. Three carriers. One comparison.

Today advisors do this by hand in three separate carrier tools. Software would do it for them.

WHAT IT DOES

Saves advisors the typing. The numbers still come from the carriers.

WHERE IT STANDS

Not built yet. The technology is ordinary, but untested on the carriers' tools.

THE CATCH

Each carrier has to allow it. Without that, staff still run the tools.

DECISION NEEDED

OK to test it with one carrier, and to ask the carriers for permission?
